

Hi! Thank you for visiting thehomeschooldaily.com ! So glad you were able to find a school tool you can use. Please feel free to use this activity for your own personal use or if you are the main teacher in a coop setting. I provide this free resource to encourage others to homeschool their own.

If you would like to share the file with others, I ask that you share by sending them a link to my website or to the page that hosts the file. Please do not send them a link directly to just the PDF file (the file you are at now).

You may not sell, copy, or alter my files as your own. You may not host my files on your own website without linking them to thehomeschooldaily.com or giving proper attribution to thehomeschooldaily.com .

May you be blessed on your homeschooling journey. Happy learning!

Cloud Field Study

This field study is just fun. It forces you to pay attention to the sky and look at the clues that nature gives us to what the weather will hold. This field study is a booklet. It is meant for your student to use for at least 5 days. When the student has ample days to investigate the clouds in the sky, they become acutely aware of the everchanging heavens. They are more apt to notice how different clouds can look from one another. It also gives them the opportunity to identify clouds more readily. Print out the document for a 5-day study. Cut the paper vertically down the middle and staple into place. Happy learning!

Cloud Field Study

Take your study outside. Look up at the sky and pay close attention to the shape and color of the clouds. What type of cloud do you see? Is it puffy like a cumulus? Is it wispy like a cirrus? Does it look like a stratus cloud covering the sky like a blanket? Is it dark and gray like a nimbus?
