

Hi! Thank you for visiting thehomeschooldaily.com ! I am so glad you were able to find a school tool you can use. Please feel free to use this activity for your own personal use or if you are the main teacher in a coop setting. I provide this free resource to encourage others to homeschool their own.

If you would like to share the file with others, I ask that you share by sending them a link to my website or to the page that hosts the file. Please do not send them a link directly to just the PDF file (the file you are at now).

You may not sell, copy, or alter my files as your own. You may not host my files on your own website without linking them to thehomeschooldaily.com or giving proper attribution to thehomeschooldaily.com

May you be blessed on your homeschooling journey.

Language and Writing Prompts (Pre-K-1st grade)

There are 6 Language and or Writing Prompts on each of the 12 pages for a total of 72 prompts. I originally created these cards as a fun way to get my kindergartener writing 2-3 sentence papers. I gave my son a writing tablet that had a blank space on the top half for drawing and lines on the bottom half for writing. These prompts were perfect. My child answered the prompt and then drew a picture.

My second child came along and I saw these writing prompts in a new light. I decided to use them as language prompts. I printed the prompts out on paper, cut them, and then placed them in a jar. Whenever he and I had a few minutes alone without disruption or distraction, he would pull a prompt out of the jar. We would read it and then it was his job to answer the prompt. He was encouraged to speak clear, loud, and without putting his hands in front of his mouth. If he was unsure of how to answer, I would gently ask him more questions to encourage him to share. It got easier for him and me the more we did.

Happy learning! 😊
