

Hi! Thank you for visiting thehomeschooldaily.com ! So glad you were able to find a school tool you can use. Please feel free to use this activity for your own personal use or if you are the main teacher in a coop setting. I provide this free resource to encourage others to homeschool their own.

If you would like to share the file with others, I ask that you share by sending them a link to my website or to the page that hosts the file. Please do not send them a link directly to just the PDF file (the file you are at now).

You may not sell, copy, or alter my files as your own. You may not host my files on your own website without linking them to thehomeschooldaily.com or giving proper attribution to thehomeschooldaily.com .

May you be blessed on your homeschooling journey. Happy learning!

Marie

Planning for the Year

Keep it simple at first. In each block, label the subject and then list out the curriculum to be completed. This could be a list of workbooks, textbooks, unit studies, field trips, books, etc. You can break down each unit study, workbook, project, or goal into smaller pieces. Once broken down, you can further plan out months, weeks, and your days. My state does not require that I keep detailed documentation. However, I find it helpful to look back at goals set throughout the year. It is can be encouraging at the finish of the year to see all that has been accomplished. Happy planning!
