THEMESCHOOLDAIY  FREE educational resources and activities

Hi! Thank you for visiting thehomeschooldaily.com ! So glad you were able to find a school tool you can use. Please feel free to use this activity for your own personal use or if you are the main teacher in a coop setting. I provide this free resource to encourage others to homeschool their own.

If you would like to share the file with others, I ask that you share by sending them a link to my website or to the page that hosts the file. Please do not send them a link directly to just the PDF file (the file you are at now).

You may not sell, copy, or alter my files as your own. You may not host my files on your own website without linking them to thehomeschooldaily.com or giving proper attribution to thehomeschooldaily.com .

May you be blessed on your homeschooling journey.

Set of Reading Logs

Reading logs are an excellent tool to use if you are trying to instill a love for reading in your kids. I have used a variety of reading logs over the years. When my kids are younger, I use a reading log that counts the number of books we read together during story time. You may want to start with a 25book reading log or go all the way to 100 . We use stickers to fill in the blanks. So, if we read 4 books then my preschooler puts 4 stickers on the log. Another option is to use stamps or initial it. As my kids get older, we advance to a reading log that has 5-20 spots out of the 100 that are tinted in gray to represent the books they are required to read to me. Eventually each child advances to a reading log that requires them to write the name of the book they read during reading time or finished completely. Some books will allot them with more than one point. Once they finish their reading log, there is some sort of prize... maybe a trip to get ice cream... a date with dad... etc. Happy learning!
