FOR THE TEACHER...

This set of Candy Cane Draw & Write sheets coincide perfectly with our Legend of the Candy Cane unit. The candy cane can easily be used to teach students about the birth and death of Jesus Christ. There are several levels of sheets available to work for different ages and abilities. Use the notes below to help guide your student in their writing.

- When the candy cane is turned upside down it resembles a “J” for Jesus.
- In its upright position, the candy cane resembles a shepherd’s staff. This symbol represents more than one reminder of Jesus. In the Bible, Jesus is referred to as our shepherd and us as His sheep.
- God also announced to nearby shepherds that baby Jesus was born to go worship him in the manger. Out of everyone God could have told to go worship baby Jesus, He instructs shepherds to go. Shepherds who are dirty, certainly smell bad, and who were considered no one special. That is a direct correlation to us, people who are imperfect.
- The colors of the candy cane should remind of us of the salvation He offers. God’s son, Jesus shed his blood on the cross for our sins. The red represents that blood. Besides the red, the white symbolizes Jesus wiping our sins clean and washing us of our sins.
- The stripes of the candy cane represent the stripes He wore that healed us. By His stripes, we are healed.

May your Christmas be a blessed one and I pray that every time you look at a candy cane, you are reminded of Jesus.
